FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GREENRAY RECEIVES ISO 9001:2008 + AS9100C
CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRATION

Q1, 2014 – Mechanicsburg, PA – Greenray Industries, Inc. has announced the company's receipt of ISO 9001:2008 + AS9100C certification, effective January 14, 2014.

Greenray Industries was audited in accordance with the requirements of AS9104/1:2012, as administered by SAI Global Certification Services Pty Ltd dba QMI-SAI Canada Limited in Toronto, Canada.

As detailed in the certification, the company has been shown to be in compliance for the "design, manufacture, test and sales of crystal oscillators (OCXO, TCXO, VCXO, Phase Locked, Multiple Output and Multipliers) surface mount, discrete and hybrid construction."

This Aerospace Industry certification supercedes Greenray's previous QMS registration, which expired on January 13, 2014.

Greenray Industries is a leading supplier of high precision, quartz-based oscillators for use in wireless and wired telephony, aerospace, military, satellite, and other instrumentation and communications applications. Information regarding Greenray's full line of signal source products, manufacturing capabilities, and industry experience is available at www.greenrayindustries.com. For further information about this certification, contact Mr. Wayne Bolton, President, or Tod Bowers, Quality Manager at Greenray Industries.
